info including blurbs and reviews for any of our books, just ask.

Author and Publisher Reps:

Hidden Brook Distribution does not have any sales staff, visiting stores. Even though Ingram is our USA distributor we are still happy to serve you directly. Some of our sales are generated by authors or publishers serving as reps. If you do not know the name of your representative please contact us directly by email. If you do not hear back from us within 48 hours please phone.

More Book Info:

A growing number of our titles are featured on The 49th Shelf and BookManager.

Spam and Emailing:

Please be advised that if you are emailing us for the first time you may not be on our “authorized email list” yet. If this is the case you will receive a kick-back message from our SpamArrest service. The kickback message from SpamArrest.com will request that you fill in a code. Don't be afraid of that SpamArrest message. It will put you on our “Authorized” list so we get your message. Otherwise your message will hang in limbo land and likely not be seen by us. this is a onetime process. OR you can phone us so we can check in our spam folder.

Ordering Books

Distribution:

- We distribute books directly from our HBD office as well as from our distributor Ingram. For free shipping you can place an order directly with us at: writers@hiddenbrookpress.com.
- See note about spam. If you do not hear from us within 48 hours please phone us at 905-376-9106 – we do not want to delay your order in the volume of emails we get.
- Ingram is one of the world's largest book distributors. If you already have an account with Ingram and you would rather order from them you can add our titles to your Ingram order. If you need to set up an account you can contact Ingram at – 800-937-0152. If you would rather order directly from HBD we will be happy to hear from you.
- See info about FREE Shipping, 50% discount and ordering on this page.

AMAZON or other E-Store:

If you are an individual rather than a store, library or library service company you should check to see if the title that you are looking for is on Amazon, Chapters, Barnes & Nobles, or any of your other favorite e-stores. They often have shipping deals and discounts that we cannot match. Amazon is a bit strange in that they might list a title as out of stock. This is not ever the case.

Discount:

- All bookstores, library service companies, libraries, universities, etc will receive a 40% discount on all regularly priced items.
- We offer a 50% discount for non-returnable orders.
- Some books are listed as sale items. These items will not be discounted further.

Payment:

- For sales to individuals payment is required prior to shipping.
- For wholesale orders payment is due on receipt of goods.
- Interest will be added to all unpaid orders after 60 days.

Return Policy:

- If you received a 40% discount, books can be returned within 60 days.
- If you received a 50% discount, books cannot be returned.
- All books other than sale books are eligible for a 50% discount.
- Book buyer will ship returns back to distributor at book buyer's expense.
- All stock must be returned in perfect condition. Stock that is dog-eared, marked, scratched etc. are non-returnable. Shipping damage is the responsibility of the book buyer.
- It is advised that the bookseller insure their return book packages.
- Book buyer will supply HBD invoice numbers for all returned books.

FREE Shipping:

If you order directly from HBD we provide FREE Shipping for orders that are greater than $125.00
If you decide to order directly from us:

- All orders are shipped without an invoice.
- An invoice will be emailed to you as a PDF file – please print as your copy.
- Any claims with Post Office or courier, for damaged books will be handled by book buyer.

Consignment Orders:

- We do not offer books on consignment to any retailer.

PDF Samples:

Ask us to send you a pdf sample of any title before you order. We will email you any number of samples you like.

Title: Bad Day for Ralphie: Stories: New and Selected

Author: Jim Christy

Publisher: Hidden Brook Press

ISBN: 978-1-927725-23-8

Size: 6 X 9 Price: $24.95 Pages: 332

Genre: Short Stories / Canadian / Fiction

URL: <http://www.hiddenbrookpress.com>

Description: Jim Christy's newest collection of short stories, Bad Day for Ralphie, published by Hidden Brook Press, is sometimes idiosyncratic and quirky, often funky and strange but always poignant and emotionally provocative. Even though they often have a funny twist they are none the less moving and will appeal to just about everyone. Jim Christy has been described as a master story teller. This collection proves the point.

- Charles Bukowski: "You tell a hell of a good story. You remind me of Malraux." - Al MacLachlan, The Coast Reporter: "Christy is the best short story writer in North America." - George Woodcock, Books in Canada: Jim Christy is the last unpurged anarchist romantic in love with freedom and the way it manifests itself in the ways and doings of men and women." - June Callwood: 1974 - "Jim Christy is now, as he was when he published his very first piece of writing, one of the four or five best writers in Canada." - Quill and Quire: "Carnavalesque Imagery". - The Toronto Star: "A polymath of insatiable curiosity."

The North Shore Series is a series of books written by authors that live in the general geographic area north of Lake Ontario, between Kingston and Port Hope. These books include poetry and prose and include some of Canada's finest authors.

Title: Bottle and Glass

Author: Morgan Wade

Publisher: Hidden Brook Press

ISBN: 978-1-927725-19-1 Size: 6 X 9 Price: $24.95 Pages: 302

Genre: Novel / Canadian / Historic

URL: <http://www.hiddenbrookpress.com>

Description: Bottle and Glass is a highly original adventure story, set during the war of 1812, and framed using real taverns that once existed within the city of Kingston, Ontario. A fascinating study of escape, and a powerful history of 19th century frontier life; Bottle and Glass is a stunning achievement. Helen Humphreys—award-winning novelist "Bottle and Glass focuses on two young fishermen from Porthleven, Cornwall, England, pressed into service aboard a Royal Navy frigate. They are forced to leave their native England for Canada and eventually Kingston, where they are stationed as Royal Marines. "Bottle and Glass is a story of survival and escape told from the barstools of two dozen boisterous Kingston taverns at the close of the War of 1812."

Title: redirection: the prime sonnets and other poems

Author: Brian T. W. Way

Publisher: Hidden Brook Press

ISBN: 978-1-927725-20-7

Size: 6 X 9 Price: $19.95 Pages: 108

Genre: poetry / Canadian

URL: www.hiddenbrookpress.com

Description: From its innovative sonnet sequence on Canada's Prime Ministers to myriad ruminations on matters local and intimate, national and universal, Way's redirection is a Canadian book of poetry that seeks, unceasingly, to lay bare the Canadian psyche and that of the world beyond.

Review by Hannab Renglich – redirection is a raw and uncensored journey through memory, national and family histories, and confrontation with loss... His poems are easily readable, honest, sometimes cutting...

Title: The Texture of Days, in Ash and Leaf

Author: Bruce Kauffman

Publisher: Hidden Brook Press

ISBN: 978-1-897475-86-7

Size: 6 X 9 Price: $16.95 Pages: 150

Genre: Poetry / Canadian

URL: <http://www.hiddenbrookpress.com/Book-NShore6.html>

Description: This book is Bruce Kauffman's first full length collection of Poetry. It is part of the Hidden Brook Press, celebrated North Shore Series - the 27th book in this renowned Canadian literature series.

There is a quiet grace and a persistent fierceness at work in Bruce Kauffman's first full length collection of poetry. Grounded in the contemplative tradition, each poem serves as a way-marker along a desire-line. Kauffman's voice is intimate and direct, perceptive and guiding—there is a real honesty here.

Title: When I Think On Your Lives
Author: Tara Kainer
Publisher: Hidden Brook Press
ISBN: 978-1-897475-68-3
Size: 5.5 X 8.5 Price: $16.95
Pages: 110 Genre: Poetry / Canadian
URL: www.hiddenbrookpress.com/Book-NSTaraKainer-WhenIThinkOnYourLives.html

Description: General reader Tara Kainer is a writer who pulls no punches – deeply self-examining, she takes on the natural world, love, war, and poverty, and insists on a human response, a recognition of meaning. These poems articulate a singular, uncompromising voice "measuring the light of my mind/by the light of those stars," a reminder of human decency and the importance of the place of the poet: both "to get at the truth, if it's possible" and "to be such a fool/for beauty."

Mary Cameron, author of the poetry collection Clouds without heaven (Beach Holme Press).

Title: The Last Stoic

Author: Morgan Wade

Publisher: Hidden Brook Press

ISBN: 978-1-897475-63-8

Size: 6 X 9 Price: $22.50 Pages: 254

Genre: Novel / Canadian

URL: www.hiddenbrookpress.com/Book-NSMorganWade-TheLastStoic.html

Description: General reader “The Last Stoic is a story about appetite and fear, both modern and ancient. Half of the story’s narrative occurs in the time and place of the ancient Roman Empire; the other half occurs in the present-day United States, alternating from chapter to chapter. Marcus, a young man from a northern provincial border town, journeys deep into the heart of the empire and witnesses first-hand the excesses that can lead to ruin, both personal and political.”

Title: A Breeze You Whisper

Author: Kathryn MacDonald

Publisher: Hidden Brook Press

ISBN: 978-1-897475-66-9

Size: 5.5 X 8.5 Price: $16.95 Pages: 138

Genre: Poetry / Prose / Canadian

URL: www.hiddenbrookpress.com/Book-NSKathrynMacDonald-ABreezeYouWhisper.html

Description: General reader The poems in A Breeze You Whisper are meteors: dense, compact stories created on wings of emotion and myth – more real than reality. They collapse time, merging past and present, resulting in no-time, in all-time. Taken together, the poems in A Breeze You Whisper reveal a journey from innocence to transcendence, expressed metaphorically through the sections: East, South, West, North, and Above & Below. Readers will identify with the universality of Kathryn MacDonald’s passion and vision.

Title: After the Flood - a dystopian novel of hope
Author: Shane Joseph Publisher: Hidden Brook Press
ISBN: 978-1-897475-32-4 Size: 6 X 9 Pages: 300 Price: $22.50
Genre: Prose - Novel URL: www.hiddenbrookpress.com/Book-Shane-AfterFlood.html
Description: General reader. A tale of love, loss and lust in a fundamentalist society created in the aftermath of a giant flood that destroyed most of the earth in 2012. David Arthurs, born after the Flood, tries to save his Humanitarian city state of Tolemac—located somewhere in the former North America—from sinking into sin and destruction as Capitalism sweeps in from across the waters of neighbouring New Eden. How is he to overcome the forces of greed when his father and founder of Tolemac, Samson, is having an affair with the beautiful New Eden exile Delia Stone, when media-manipulated local elections oust David from political office, and when a drug cartel is poisoning the minds and bodies of the youth in the once peaceful island state? And more importantly, when, for the first time, David finds himself succumbing to temptations of the flesh that were outlawed during the founding of Tolemac but never eradicated from the human genetic code.

Title: On Cloud Nine - A Down-to-Earth Fantasy
Author: Jake Hogeterp Publisher: Hidden Brook Press

Genre: Prose - Novel URL: www.hiddenbrookpress.com/Book-JakeH-OnCloudNine.html
Description: Adult / General reader. "If Cloud Nine did not exist, you would have had to invent it." So says Emmenda, Tender First Class of Guests Manifesting Excess Happiness and a Cloud Sprite dedicated to her task and the Cloud's unwavering mandate. So what's all the that turmoil about just as Paul Hogarth, a humble baker who's just won a first-novel prize, wafts in from the hold of the Joyful Reaper, for his stint of happiness rehab? It seems not all Cloud Sprites are content with the status quo. With Down Below's mad-cap ride to apparent self-destruction, some feel Cloud Nine can no longer lay claim to its legitimacy as a Protective Realm. Paul becomes an unwitting pawn in the struggle, both on the Cloud and back home in his solid form. Will he have to carry the message to his fellow humans? Will they believe him? Welcome to Cloud Nine. Even if you may already have been there, you're in for an adventure you never would have expected.

Title: No Common Thread Author: Norma West Linder Publisher: Hidden Brook Press
ISBN: 978-1-897475-91-1 Size: 6 X 9 Pages: 205 Price: $18.95
Genre: Prose - Short Stories URL: TBA
Description: Over the past four decades, the short stories of Norma West Linder have appeared in leading magazines, such as Chatelaine and Horizon, at home and internationally. Her fiction has been anthologized numerous times. In No Common Thread, Ms. Linder has selected 33 of her personal favourites from well over 100 published pieces. While a couple of these stories are set in southeast Asia, many are based not far from Lake Huron, the environment in which she grew up during the Great Depression. They depict people living their fragile lives against a backdrop of human passions and failures. Throughout these stories, men and women struggle to understand the mystery inherent in human relationships: parent and child, husband and wife, friends and lovers. Readers who have enjoyed her novels will certainly like these luminous stories.

Description: General reader "Island on the Wind-Breathed Edge of the Sea", is a collection of poetry by, arguably, one of Canada's finest living People's Poets, John B. Lee. After numerous literary awards, 50 books and many trips to Cuba this is Lee's first full collection of Cuba poems. They are the perceptions, perspectives and reflections on the Cuban landscape, its peoples, the sounds and sights, the sea and the wind and how they all fold into a poetic experience.

These poems will bring you closer to the real Cuba than any guide or travel book could possibly do. This is one of John B. Lee's finest books.

Award winning Author
John B. Lee
recipient of over 60 prestigious international awards!

In 2005 John B. Lee was inducted as Poet Laureate of Brantford in perpetuity. The same year he received the distinction of being named Honourary Life Member of The Canadian Poetry Association. In 2007 he was made a member of the Chancellor's Circle of the President's Club of McMaster University and named first recipient of the Souwesto Award for his contribution to literature in his home region of southwestern Ontario. A recipient of over sixty prestigious international awards for his writing he is winner of the $10,000 CBC Literary Award for Poetry, the only two-time recipient of the People's Poetry Award, and 2006 winner of the inaugural Souwesto Orison Writing Award (University of Windsor).

Description: In This We Hear The Light is a stunning collection of Cuba theme poetry by award winning poet, John B. Lee, juxtaposed by an equally splendid assembly of Cuba theme photography by Richard M. Grove. The poems and photographs represent the inspiration from many years of travelling in Cuba. Since first traveling to Cuba, John B. Lee came to love the island and to admire her people. In This We Hear the Light, is an ekphrastic project, its literary efforts are beautifully complemented by Richard Grove's exquisite photographs. The poems and the photographs aspire to capture something more deeply felt than the reflections of a mere tourist. Poetry and photography both hold the deep felt mysteries that come from understanding Cuba on an intimate and cherished level.

Description: The release of Window Fishing: the night we caught Beatlemania, just in time to celebrate the fiftieth anniversary of the appearance of the Beatles on the Ed Sullivan Show, Sunday, February 9th, 1964, is an important cultural event, in that it encapsulates a significant historical period with its impact upon the sensibilities of a number of writers from around the world for whom the Beatles were a major inspiration. The British band banned in Cuba, China and the Soviet Union managed to sing beyond those walls and capture the imagination of young people growing up in repressive regimes. American poet Robert Sward writes

Description: Beyond the Seventh Morning is an uplifting, stimulating book of poetry created around the theme of nature and spirituality – how do nature and spirituality overlap? Fifteen inspiring black and white nature photographs by Richard M. Grove are distributed throughout. This literary work will explore why nature is important to us on more than just a visceral and primitive level. This book will tell of positive mountain top, lake gliding, snow trudging experiences using nature as metaphor and simile to express the joy and peace that those exchanges yield. In these days of global warming and threatening climate change, this book will act as a calming beacon that shows the importance and value of nature and how it nurtures the soul.

This collection of short stories is sometimes a bit dark in nature. Unlike Grove's previous collection of light and fun short stories under the title of "The Family Reunion" these are more about the consternations of life; the troubles of a life long dream burning to the ground, a boyhood character coming to terms with forgiveness and the psycho babble of Will Farnaby and his aquarium life. Even though these stories deal with the darker side of life they do have their humorous side and are a good read.

Description: Adult / General reader. Ray Fenech's unique poetic sense breeds a diversity of shadows. Some are shed by southern Mediterranean sun through the kaleidoscope of cultures that crisscross in Malta, the magic space where the poet was born. Some are cast by Maltese ignis fatuus, ghostly memories of the islands' old, forgotten times. Sundry light sources produce miscellaneous shades: a poet of many shadows. Such are the fundamental sources of this strange book. When their time came, they bloomed and fructified. Fenech collected the clusters on the vines and fermented their juice with his intense living experience. Here is the offering, warmed under Mediterranean starry nights.

Size: 5.25 X 8.25 Pages: 279 Price: $22.50 Genre: Prose - Memoir

URL: www.hiddenbrookpress.com/Book-KarenCole-Lifting.html

Description: General Reader. Lifting the Veil is not a conventional memoir like so many dry chronologies you may have read. This well crafted story reads more like a novel and is worthy of your attention. It is not a nice romantic look back at the past but is rather a story about overcoming manipulation and brain washing from an early age. It is about surviving the despair of exploitation. It is not about nostalgia and heartfelt reminiscence though it uses some of those literary tools to carry the story of a young woman learning to see her power that was buried by an alcoholic father, an unrewarded mother and a greedy church that latched on to a virgin mind as its only form of floundering hope.

The irony of this story is that the heroine of this journey – Karen Cole – survived and breaks free from the cloistered convent life, as the bride of Jesus, because of her inner God given strength. She survives not because of what her father taught about capitulation or what her mother stoically taught her about putting the nose to the grindstone. Karen Cole can be proud of more than just the writing of this book; she can be proud of surviving where others were buried in the trenches of life. She lifted the veil of blind faith and saw her true path, smiling all the way.

Publisher: SandCrab Books

ISBN: 978-1-897475-78-2 Size: 6 X 9 Pages: 111 Price: $16.95

Genre: Poetry in English and Spanish

Description: Adult / General reader / A Thief of Impeccable Taste / Un ladrón de impecable buen gusto is one of the finest collections of Canadian Poetry in English and Spanish. Prairie Fire Review of Books that says, "Sorestad is a master poet. Of this, there is no doubt."

With A Thief of Impeccable Taste, Glen Sorestad, adds to his growing stature as one of Canada's most enduring poets. The poems of this new volume reflect those qualities for which his poetry is so well known - the carefully honed language with which he treats everyday matters, alongside the trademark generosity of spirit with which he views life. Whether he is writing about people or places, the aging body or the beauty of fresh fallen snow, a loose lock of hair or puzzled geese, he impresses upon us through his poems the importance of making time to pay attention to the world around us. Sorestad transforms the ordinary into the memorable. A Thief of Impeccable Taste is poetry for people who may not think of themselves as poetry readers.

BIO: Glen Sorestad is a well known poet from Saskatoon who has over twenty books and chapbooks of poetry published. His poems have appeared in over fifty anthologies and have been translated in a number of languages, most recently into Afrikaans for the South African poetry e-magazine, Versindaba. Sorestad has been granted Life Member status in both the League of Canadian Poets and in the Saskatchewan Writers Guild. In November of 2000 he was appointed the first Poet Laureate of Saskatchewan, becoming the first provincially or federally appointed Poet Laureate in Canada and serving until 2004. He was awarded the Saskatoon Book Award in November 2001 for Leaving Holds Me Here. In February 2003 Sorestad was a recipient of the Queen's Golden Jubilee Medal. He was appointed a Member of the Order of Canada on June 30th, 2010.

Description: Adult / General reader

In a deeply troubled world, how is it possible to Make it beautiful, as her Muse demands, Susan Ioannou asks in her fourth major poetry collection, Looking for Light. In the attempt, she follows the artistic imagination's travels as far as Italy's Bagni di Lucca, fantasizes about a poetry class romance, feels the intimacy between sculptor and subject, and swirls with a dancer's passion. Part 2, Beyond Knowing, turns inward, blending spirituality, nature, and the paradoxes of particle physics to puzzle about the experience of God and the mysterious forces that brought us into being and invisibly sustain us, body and soul. Part 3, Passing Seventy, explores transformation, both physical and emotional, as the final years of life approach. Not only do ageing's challenges of failing health and family loss reshape our familiar perspective on the present, they drive a larger vision of what may come after the inevitable happens.

ISBN: 978-1-927725-36-8
Size: 6 X 9 Pages: 81
Price: $19.95
Genre: Poetry / Canadian / Single Author
Description: Adult / General reader.

And With Thy Spirit is a new book of poetry in which author, April Bulmer, unravels the story of her soul like gauze from a bandaged wound. Confident in the Eastern philosophy of reincarnation: the concept that we begin a life after biological death in a new body (human, animal or spiritual), she describes the garden of women who bloom like damp blossoms from her fertile womb. She recalls the stories of their roots, the energy of their suns and moons.

Life after life, the Lord has taken her, often in the dim "when shadows genuflect/ on buffalo skin." A feminine soul deeply entrenched in Native culture and ritual her God limps for her like "an old coyote/ past miracle sites/ and stones of pagans./ Through fallen fields/ where the living send/ their prayers."

Her women have also enjoyed the company of many men. Lucille Sky, for instance, walks the river with her lover their "souls speaking tongue: canoes and fish/ and the God of blood." She wants Johnny Nanticoke's brown hand on her breast "like a shadow/ on Grandmother Moon."

April's ghostly incarnations often come to her in "the moments before sleep," their hair wild with dream.

this book is a must read!

The mystique of the Antarctic enthralls everyone, but few dare venture to its icy shores. But for those who do, a myriad of questions arise - what do I wear? What will I do? What will I see? How do I prepare? Geoff, a veteran expedition guide, brings you his knowledge and experience through the pages of this fun and informative guide. It is packed with interesting facts about wildlife and the many, varied and interesting sites you might visit when down there. Detailed information on history, ice, snow, weather, glaciers, safe travel, protecting yourself and your possessions, effective packing and so much more certainly makes this one of the most informative guides ever written about the Antarctic, South Georgia and the Falklands. The book includes a rare compilation of marine superstitions, which is both educational and in some cases hysterical! Whether a seasoned traveller or one new to the game, this book will undoubtedly make your dream of conquering the Blue Continent a reality.

But wait, it's more than that ... the detail is so thorough and the information so well researched, that this book would be of immeasurable value to any traveller. This book will become THE resource guide for travellers! And just in case you're not planning on going anywhere, this book will make a great gift or light reading for you as you stay at home and dream of going away!

Children's Stories
Spanish and English
in one book.

Description: Tales for Pablo have been described as the Grimm's fairy tales of this millennium written with the Spanish drama of a Cuban father. Tales for Pablo will rekindle the imagination of the reader no matter what the age. In the frontiers that grow between dreams and reality, Pablo's adventures feed from both worlds, flow out of what could be and what seems to be: fishes that swim in the air of a nocturnal forest, a rabbit that rides his bicycle on the moon, a sleepless goblin, a witch and her one-eyed billy goat...

Tales for Pablo is a portal that opens into what we once were, or might have been.
